

Winning New Federal & State Resources!

Ken Mall, Managing Director, Workforce Consulting ~
EDSI Consulting

Ken has 26 years of leadership experience working with top-tier companies, labor organizations and government agencies. He has advised more than 65 government, workforce development, and economic development agencies at the state, regional, and levels local. At the state level he is currently advising the Michigan Department of Labor and Economic Opportunity, which oversees all the state's workforce development programs.

He and other members of the EDSI team recently completed the first phase of a project with the New Jersey Department of Labor that included a review of all workforce development programs across the state. Ken has also provided advisory services for the Indiana Department of Workforce Development, the Pennsylvania Department of Labor and Industry, the Connecticut Department of Labor, and most recently workforce agencies in South Carolina, Chicago, Detroit, Jacksonville, Philadelphia, New York City, and Tallahassee.

Ken is nationally recognized for his workforce development expertise, speaking at NAWB and COABE annually, and several regional workforce development and economic development conferences each year.
